

New IWRA Membership Structure

How we decided to adapt our membership model to a changing world, and ensure our members are at the heart of everything we do.

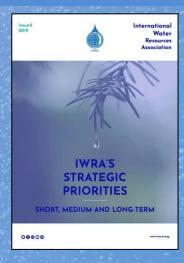

Why Change the Structure?

 Delivering on the strategy developed by the Executive Board in 2019 and the resulting new mission and vision statements for IWRA, we want to put members at the heart of everything we do.

- All the work IWRA undertakes should either relate back to member benefits, or to the long-term sustainability of the Association.
- IWRA also needs to adapt to a changing world of technology and new business models.

To be the leading global platform and community of researchers, educators, policy-influencers, and managers addressing local to global water-related challenges, and improving water outcomes for all.

Our Vision

To be a cross-disciplinary, membership-focused, international association that uses events, projects, publications and research to facilitate and inspire dialogue, knowledge sharing, and science-based solutions for the sustainable management of water resources across all sectors, scales and communities at the interface between science and policy.

Our Mission

The Basic Principles of this new structure

- Instead of defining membership based on "who our members are", we focus instead on "how they want to interact with IWRA".
- We now offer different levels of membership depending on what members want to get out of IWRA, starting from free trial to a "premium" membership.
- Each level of membership will have different levels of benefits; each higher level adding to the basket of benefits for the level below.
- This way we can offer "low risk" options for people to get to know us, and then offer increasing benefits grouped in such a way that members only pay for those ones they think they need.
- There will be grants available for anyone on a low income who wants to take a level of membership with more benefits than they could otherwise afford. (i.e. Silver)

Three levels of Individual Membership

- Bronze Membership an entry-level membership that comes with no financial risk. Free
- Silver Membership give members the opportunity to leverage their membership of IWRA to advance their careers and reputations, both through more intense networking on specific activities, and also through recognition of their leading involvement/contribution.
 65 USD per annum
- Gold Membership For anyone who wants a "Premier experience" and those planning to participate in IWRA events.

Two levels of Institution Membership

- Silver Partners For smaller organizations that want to actively engage with IWRA and promote their activities to our members. $550 per annum
- Gold Partners For larger organizations that want to actively engage on larger scale with IWRA and promote their activities to members especially at the World Water Congress. $1500 per annum
